Brentano Previews Upcoming Textiles at HD Expo 2009 Brings home two IIDA/HD Product Design Awards

Wheeling, IL (June 2009)—Brentano's second year exhibiting at the HD Expo in Las Vegas showcased textiles from their current spring 2009 Doodle collection, as well as colorful patterns from previous collections, and numerous offerings from the fall 2009 collection which will launch August 1, 2009. Two of these upcoming fabrics won awards in their product categories in the 13th annual IIDA/Hospitality Design Magazine Hospitality Product Design Competition, which recognizes designers and manufacturers for excellence in product design and honors innovation, function, and aesthetic advancements in the hospitality industry.

De-Vine, a double-embroidered faux leather with a large-scale repeat, won the IIDA/HD Product Design Award for upholstery entrants. Perfect for vertical panels, headboards, ottomans, and accent pieces in upscale interiors, De-Vine can be paired with its durable counterpart Ooh La La, which offers coordinating solids for each of its six majestic colorways.
